FOREWORD

Reaching our goal after many years of struggle and hard work, we embark upon the threshold of a new beginning. We have strived to build a firmer, more lasting relationship between students and teachers.

Many memories are relived as we capture them on the pages of the CENTADEMIC. The crowning of our "63" Homecoming Queen, highlights from the basketball stars, and an enjoyable evening with the P. T. A. All these candid details were captured for your enjoyment.

The volume of the CENTADEMIC will explore with you the depths of our development both academic and social. Each page symbolizes achievements and knowledge gained by co-operation within the walls of our school.

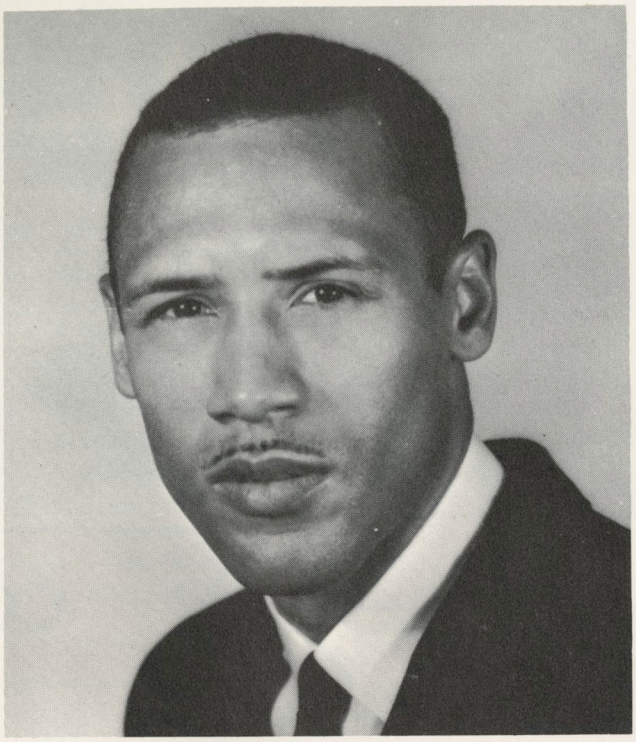
DEDICATION



We, the Senior Class of 1964, proudly dedicate this third edition of the CENTADEMIC to Robert Lee Stokes, principal of Central Academy School.

Through his many efforts, we have tried to maintain a high academic standard, participated in many extracurricular activities and have helped build a better relationship between our fellow classmates and teachers.

We acknowledge our appreciation to him through this dedication of our 1964 yearbook.

SUPERINTENDENT JAMES W. OBSENSHAIN

To the members of the Senior class, I extend my congratulations and best wishes. It is my sincere desire that each of you have received fruitful training, not only in your academic subjects, but also in the principles of high moral standards and good citizenship.

Please remember that education is not simply something to prepare one for life; it is a continuous part of life. Each of you should endeavor to avail yourself of every opportunity to continue your training.

The real test of education is how we live, how we love, how we hope, and how we pray. Life does not require us to make good; it asks only that we give our best.

Mr. Robert L. Stokes, Principal. B.S., M.S., Virginia State College; Further study at the University of Virginia.

May I take this opportunity to congratulate the senior class, faculty, patrons, and the yearbook committee on the 1963-64 publication of the CENTADEMIC.

Congratulations to the seniors who represent the first graduation class under the new administration. As you enter into the world of adulthood, you will have new opportunities, new challenges, and greater responsibilities. In meeting these new experiences you will find it a tremendous asset to be able to draw on the fund of knowledge you have acquired in school.

As seniors, you must be aware that your education will play an important role in your life's accomplishments. For some of you, completion of high school signifies the end of your classroom instruction; while for others, it will serve as the basis for advance training. In either event, it is hoped that the school has given you the necessary training to be successful in whatever work or profession you may enter.

So it is with the greatest sincerity that the principal of your school hopes that you will have used this school year in a way that will bring great happiness in your years to come.

School Secretary

OUR ALMA MATER

Central, now our voices are raised
With harmony and grateful praise,
For our school we love so dear,
For our friends we've all found here.

For your lovely majestic form,
Which spreads silently o'er all the land,
Offering to us challenging roles,
Preparing us to meet our goals.

Central, true to thee we'll remain,
After we have all sort our fame.
For you smiled on us in doubts
And fears
Banishing all our child-like fears
True to thee we shall remain --
O'le Central Dear.

Senior Memoirs

As we look back we can often remember
That bewildered class in its first September.
We came in that year of fifty-nine,
Planning to work and not get behind.

Though most of us studies so diligently,
Our loss at promotion totaled more than three;
We were spotted as leaders in our freshman class
Under the sponsor-ship of Mrs. A. C. Bass.

As sophomores and juniors we saw the need
For better students, so we took the lead.
In improving our grades and scholastic ability
Showing that we weren't in a state of anility.

Now as seniors, our goal we have attained;
Our individuality we have sustained.
Thanks to our sponsor, Miss Holt, B. V.,
She's helped us often our way to see.
Our ambitions we do not tend to eschew
Concerning our future -- look forward we all do.

-Carla Gill.

Remembrance

Dear Central we must part
'Though we're sad at heart;
But we must go on to our goals.
To Mr. Stokes and faculty dear
We leave our thanks and gratitude
To all of you here.

Remember the class of sixty-four.

Forever you will remain in our hearts
Although it's time for us to depart.
We find it so very hard to say,
"Good-bye" to all of you today.

CLASS HISTORY

On a very warm day in September, 1959, forty-two energetic students filed in the newly constructed Central Academy School to begin their first year in high school. Our sponsor that year was Mrs. F. G. Johns. The highlights of our first year was the winning of the Homecoming Queen contest. Betty Watts reigned over this festive occasion as Miss Homecoming of 1960.

As we entered our freshman year (1960-61), only thirty-five fellow classmates remained, with Mrs. A. C. Bass as our sponsor. The members of our class were as cooperative as the year before. We again won the Homecoming Queen contest with Dollie Burrell reigning as Miss Homecoming 1961. This year we were proud to have nine boys and four girls from our class to join the basketball team.

Our sophomore year (1961-62), Miss B. V. Holt became our sponsor. Our classes became complete but interesting. Many students entered projects for the Science Fair; Dale Vaughn won first place in the biological division with her project, "Respiration System of Frogs."

For the third consecutive year we won the Homecoming contest. This year Maria Adams reigned as Miss Homecoming 1962.

In September of 1962, those of us who had the fortitude and courage to keep up entered our fourth year of high school as juniors. The following officers were chosen to guide us in our destinies as juniors: President, Maria Adams; Vice President, Carla Gill; Secretary, Jerry Cooper; and Mr. John E. Banks, sponsor.

The Junior-Senior Prom was one of the highlights of our junior year. It was the prettiest "Prom" that has been at Central Academy. The theme, "Song In My Heart," was carried out in red and white. Hugh hearts and cupids were reminiscent of love, romance and beauty. The entrancement of the soft music of the Swing Masters Band helped to bring out the love and beauty of that night.

Although we didn't keep our record of winning the Homecoming Queen contest, we still worked to win other contests. During that year we won the Harvest Festival contest. Josephine Martin was the reigning Miss Harvest Queen of 1963. In May we again were victorious. This time the popularity contest was won by Maria Adams who reigned as Miss May Queen.

Now we are at the heights of our senior year with the twenty-five class members and Miss B. V. Holt as our class advisor. We are proud of the achievements of our fellow classmates. On our basketball team James Sullivan was chosen captain and Jerry Cooper, co-captain. Mary Bryant was chosen captain and Gladys Traynham, co-captain of the girls' team. Other members of the team are Paul Wallace, Catherine Bolden, Mildred Journiette, and Josephine Martin. In the Student Council, Maria Adams is President; Dale Vaughn, Secretary; Walter Noel, Treasurer; Betty Watts and Jerry Cooper, representatives. In the Safety Patrol, Jerry Cooper is Captain and Maria Adams is Lieutenant. The representatives are James Brown, Betty Watts, Mary Bryant, and Dale Vaughn. Paul Wallace is president of the Varsity Club. Other officers include Jerry Cooper, Vice President; Gladys Traynham, Secretary; and Mildred Journiette, Sgt.-at-Arms. On our Newspaper Staff, Josephine Martin is Editor; Catherine Bolden, Business Manager; Bertha Sparrow, Circulation Manager; and Patricia Johnson, James Sullivan, Sports Editor; Walter Noel is Art Editor and Richard Johnson is reporter. Choral Club members are Carla Gill, Patricia Johnson, Josephine Martin, Walter Noel, Richard Johnson, Jerry Cooper, James Brown, Viola Fennell, Mary Bryant, James Sullivan, Paul Wallace, and Betty Watts, Secretary. We are now looking forward to graduation and the many years ahead. These years will help us to search, seek and to achieve the demands of our future.
